

SAYS WILSON WILL WIN CITY COUNCIL CAN'T BEAT HOYNE

Important Business Transacted by the Aldermen at Their First Meeting This Week After Summer Vacation.

At the first meeting of the City Council since the summer vacation Mayor Thompson announced that he had "asked Jarvis Hunt, architect, to draw up comprehensive plans for the development of the city's entire lake front, which plans will embody both commercial and recreation features." He added that these plans would be completed and submitted to the council in the near future.

This came in the message the Mayor submitted outlining his views and hopes for improvements. In it he indorsed the plans for more playgrounds, small parks and bathing beaches, and especially the claims for these on the West Side.

Ellis Geiger, chairman of the railway terminal committee, presented a resolution which he said was intended to get action on the lake shore development on the South Side. The Secretary of War has declined to give a permit to the South Park commission to fill in the lake until the City Council consents.

The Geiger resolution instructs the terminal committee "to take up the question with the South Park commissioners and see whether it is possible to come to an understanding which will permit the city to concur in the application" for the permit.

Aldermen Littler, Block and Cullerton protested against the passage of the resolution and it was sent to the committee for consideration.

"I want the Illinois Central brought to time before permission is granted to fill in the lake," said Alderman Littler.

Alderman Geiger presented another resolution providing for the employment of an attorney to help the terminal committee in thrashing out the ordinance for the Illinois Central terminal. It was referred to the finance committee.

Other business transacted by the council was:

Referred to judiciary committee proposed ordinance of Alderman Miller to require all loaves of bread to be at least one pound in weight.

Passed ordinance to recreate Lake Michigan water commission, presented by Alderman Healy.

Referred to local transportation committee ordinance of Alderman Cross to construct a street car line between South Chicago and Hege-

Referred to building committee another ordinance by Alderman Cross to extend building limits in Eighth Ward.

Referred to street committee resolution of Alderman Schwartz to investigate improvement associations which clean streets.

Referred to judiciary committee petition of Alderman Kennedy asking Congress to extend postal savings banks.

Passed order of Alderman Lawley to prepare ordinance to straighten south branch of river.

Referred another order of Alderman Lawley to finance committee which provided for a new city code.

Passed order of Alderman Geiger directing an investigation of strikes on the Union terminal construction.

The Council also received a protest from Jenkins Lloyd Jones against changing the name of Wells street to North Fifth avenue. He said that such a change would be "historic vandalism," because Lieutenant Wells rendered gallant service for women and children in an Indian massacre.

FORGET THE CHICAGO POST OFFICE

The Chicago Evening Post of October 3 printed the following bitter attack on President Wilson, which shows that the Post, like the civil service reformers, shuts its eyes to what is going on at home. The Post in its desire to hit the president forgot that no change whatever of a partisan nature had been made in the Chicago postoffice. With this fact in view how ridiculous the following Post editorial appears:

"The 'Snivel' Service. As a sort of undertone to the major music which rolls out at frequent intervals across the pleasant spaces of Shadow Lawn the utterances of Vice President Marshall are interesting.

"Mr. Marshall lacks the elegance of speech that is so charming a characteristic of his chieftain's oratory, and, by the same token, he cannot as gracefully conceal his real thoughts.

"Thus, speaking in his homely Hoosier fashion to a meeting of his fellow citizens at Terre Haute, Mr. Marshall said:

"We found the offices well guarded by 'snivel service,' and our only regret is that we couldn't pry more of the appointees loose and fill their places with Democrats. If there is any office under the government that a Democrat can't fill I believe that office should be abolished."

"Now, we cannot imagine these words coming from the lips of Woodrow Wilson, although there is reason to believe they express a point of view with which he is not wholly unsympathetic. But Mr. Wilson would have dressed the simple policy of party expediency and spoils in all the verbal pomp and pageantry of an exalted principle.

"Mr. Marshall is an interpreter. He makes the elusive eloquence of the white house understandable to common people. He gives the phantasmagoric movies of Shadow Lawn palpable substance for the Democratic rank and file. Terre Haute, where politics is of the most practical type, finds little it can grasp with satisfaction in the brilliant coruscations from the balcony of the presidential mansion; but when 'Tom' comes to town and talks to the boys about the 'snivel service' they realize that, in spite of all the high-sounding phrases emanating from latitudes farther north, the Democratic party remains true to its fundamental principles of the 'loaves and fishes.' They are given to understand that if there is any way of getting around, under, over or through the 'snivel service,' that way will be discovered, and good Democrats will come into their just deserts."

AN "OFFICIAL" FAMILY

There are citizens who believe that it is contrary to good public policy in a free country to put too many of the public offices in one community in the possession of members of a single family.

The people have known right along that the Connerys were credited with holding many public jobs in Chicago. They have known right along that a member of the Connelly coal firm is a member of the Board of Review. They have known right along this of Al's private secretary was a Connelly. They have known right along that the Attorney General's Office investigates matters connected with public offices.

They have known right along that an Official Investigator of the Illinois Attorney General's Office was a Connelly.

They have known right along that a city clerk some of whose methods the present city clerk did not follow was a Connelly.

They have known right along that the man who passes on the bills of Contractors for the Sanitary District of Chicago is a Connelly—the Comptroller of the District.

They have known right along that

SEES WILSON WINNER

John Gowan-Stobo, the Famous Accountant and a Republican, Makes a Prediction.

John Gowan-Stobo, one of the most widely known expert accountants in the United States, whose firm has business relations in most of the western states, says to the Eagle:

"Wilson will be re-elected.

"The business men in most of the small cities are with him.

"The bank reserve bill which Wilson put through 'moves the crops' without creating financial stringency.

"The tariff issue is dead, as most of the mills beyond the seas are out of business for the war.

"Good times prevail everywhere, and American manufacturers are getting their own prices for their output."

DON'T FORGET THE CONNERY'S

Charles Boeschstein, national committeeman from Illinois, who is aiding in the collection of campaign funds for the Wilson cause, announces a novelty in the way of aluminum banks the campaign committee is sending out in the collection of funds.

JOHN P. HOPKINS, Democratic Leader of Force and Ability.

the rather important job of State Bank Examiner is held by a Connelly.

They have known right along that many of the public offices in Cook County are noneycombed with Connerys.

They know that the Recorder of Deeds, who runs again this year, whose office contains several Connerys, is a Connelly.

Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York and son-in-law of Senator O'Gorman of New York, was at western headquarters carrying news to Senator Walsh that California, Utah, Wyoming and Nevada will give their votes to Wilson.

There are two sizes, one intended to hold about $4 and the other $40. Commenting on the banks Mr. Boeschstein said:

"These banks are intended to give those whose hearts are with us, but whose means will not permit them to do more, an opportunity to give what they feel they can afford, in any amount from 25 cents to $5. The re-election of President Wilson is the people's fight, and we want them to help in this campaign."

With President Wilson heading the ticket, the Democrats believe that they have a good chance to carry the state again.

The gang are out to knife Hoyne. They are already quietly passing the word to their followers to vote for someone else.

The people will fool them. The plot which they have hatched will come to nought.

Hoyne will be re-elected by a record-breaking majority.

The public has confidence in Macley Hoyne.

His great record as State's Attorney is appreciated by the people.

He will be re-elected beyond any vember. The list of nominees follows:

State Senate.

of adoption in its present strong and vigorous form.

ELECT NASH JUDGE

People Should Make Thomas D. Nash a Judge of the Municipal Court.

Thomas D. Nash should be elected Judge of the Municipal Court. He is an able lawyer and an honest man who will be a credit to the bench.

TOM SULLIVAN'S PLATFORM

Democratic Candidate for Sanitary District Head Gives Pledges.

Thomas M. Sullivan, candidate for the Democratic nomination for president of the drainage board, issued his platform. Among the pledges are:

Continuation of the present method of sewage disposal as long as conditions will permit, to be supplemented by other methods as conditions require.

Immediate diversion of all sewage from Lake Michigan, including that of Evanston and South Chicago.

Complete protection of drinking water supply by latest scientific methods.

Reduction of tax rate each year consistent with the work to be performed by the district.

Permanent improvements to be paid for by the sale of bonds.

Enlargement and maintenance of the district's municipal hydro electric plant to its highest efficiency.

Extension of street lighting to the different municipalities within the district at lowest possible cost to them.

Development by district of additional water power below present powerhouse in order to furnish Chicago with additional street lights.

The earliest possible solution of the "Bubbly creek" nuisance.

VOTE FOR ROBERT E. WILSON

Robert E. Wilson, the able Democratic representative from the Sixth Senatorial District, was the father of the Firemen's pension act so far as the legislature goes. He fought for it and stood by it until it became a law. This is only one of a hundred good laws placed on the statute books through the instrumentality of Robert E. Wilson. Voters of the Sixth District should return this able man to Springfield.

GOOD SANITARY TICKET

The Democrats made no mistake in the ticket nominated by them for Trustees of the Sanitary District of Chicago. It is above reproach. Every man on it has served the public faithfully and well. Following is the ticket:

President Sanitary District—Thomas M. Sullivan.

Sanitary Trustees—Joseph Rushkewicz and James A. Long.
